

BADING WINS IN MILWAUKEE FIGHT OVER SOCIALIST

Non-partisan Mayoralty Candidate Has 7,000 to Spare, Which Is Less Than Last Time

HOAN MAY BE THE CITY ATTORNEY

Unofficial Reports Show Him to Be Putting Up a Strong Fight with Timlan for City Office

"DRYS" WIN MANY VICTORIES

In Southern Section of the State No License Is Voted Because of Bitter Illinois Fight

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 8.—Non-partisans defeated the socialists yesterday in the city election. Mayor Bading, Comptroller Kotecki and Treasurer Carney are surely elected.

Their majorities are about 7,000 with Carney and Kotecki probably running slightly ahead of the ticket.

Thompson Circuit Judge Returns from the Eighth judicial circuit show Geo. Thompson, brother of Attorney James Thompson, La Crosse, victorious in the race for the circuit judgeship. Mr. Thompson ran against F. W. McNally.

Thompson's majority is estimated at about 4,500. Menomonee gave Thompson 529 and McNally, 289. In twenty-seven out of thirty-one precincts in Dunn county Thompson received 2,259 votes and McNally 899.

The race between Timlin and Hoan for city attorney is very close, with the return slightly favoring Hoan, the socialist.

Of the twenty-five city wards, G. A. Bading, nonpartisan, carried fifteen. The socialists gained two new aldermen but lost their alderman at large. The vote fell far under the figures of two years ago when 74,000 ballots were counted. The total this time is between 68,000 and 70,000.

Bading's majority was cut down by 2,000 votes. Victor Berger and Emil Seidel, the latter a candidate for mayor, claimed this morning that this meant ultimate victory for the party.

Demand Recount "Dry" workers at Madison this morning demanded a recount on the vote of sixty-seven majority which was given the "wets" here yesterday. The "drys" claim that a number of floaters were brought in by the liquor people. Adolph Ayser was elected mayor by a majority of 580 over Mayor John B. Helm.

Twenty of Forty "Dry" Out of forty cities and villages in Wisconsin which voted on the liquor question yesterday and heard from twenty, or about 50 per cent voted against licensing of saloons.

This has been the greatest inroad in the state on liquor territory by the drys in the history of the commonwealth.

The greatest gain was concentrated along the southern border, near which 90 per cent of Illinois went dry.

Liquor Election Results

The cities voting "wet" are: Madison, River Falls, Stanley, Sparta, Burlington City, Reedsburg, Ridgeville, Colby, Lindes, Hollandale, Menomonee, Janesville, Beloit, Edgerton, Galesville, Trempealeau, White-water and Fox Lake.

IS JUDGE OF THE EIGHTH CIRCUIT

George Thompson of Ellsworth, Wis., twin brother of James Thompson of this city, who was yesterday elected to the position of circuit judge of the Eighth judicial circuit of Wisconsin.

Majority of Cities and Villages Near La Crosse Will Be in Liquor Column This Year

CLOSE FIGHT AT BLAIR, WIS.

Drys Win by Two Votes and It Is Understood that the Liquor Faction Wants Recount

The "wets" gained victories in most of the numerous liquor license elections which were held in this district yesterday. Chief among the towns in which the fight was hot and the interest consequently large were Sparta and Viroqua. Neither town changed, although the margins by which they remained in the "wet" and "dry" columns, respectively, was considerably narrower than at the last vote on the question.

Sparta remained "wet" by a majority of 80 votes. Viroqua remained "dry" by a majority of 51.

The contest was especially close in Blair, Wis. At Blair early reports were that the "wets" had retained their hold on the electors by a narrow margin. Later reports declared that a final count showed the "drys" in control by the slender margin of two votes. It is understood the liquor faction will demand a recount.

The result is in accordance with a precedent Blair has observed for seven years. She has alternated between the "dry" and "wet" column each year for that length of time.

Among the other towns and villages of this vicinity which voted on the license question, and the results, are:

Holmen, dry.
Gays Mills, wet.
Boscobel, wet.
Arcadia, wet.
Galesville, wet.
Whitehall, dry.
Blair, dry.
Alma Center, wet.
Independence, wet.
De Soto, wet.
Reedsburg, wet.

ILLINOIS WOMEN CAST HEAVY VOTE BUT ARE BEATEN

More Women in Proportion to Registration Vote Than Do the Men

PROVES FACTOR IN LIQUOR FIGHT

"Votes for Women" Greatly Increases the Number of Dry Counties in the State

"BATH HOUSE JOHN" IS WINNER

Not One Woman Candidate Is Elected in Big Municipal Fight in the City of Chicago

Large cities of Illinois voting dry and saloons ousted: Belvidere, 20. Bloomington, 89. Canton, 23. Decatur, 58. DeKalb was dry. Elgin, 37. Freeport, 46. Galesburg, 20. Kewanee, 18. Pontiac, 10. Rockford was dry. In addition to these the drys scored victories in nearly fifty small towns and townships, ousting a total of from 1,900 to 1,100 saloons.

Large cities voting wet. Alton, Aurora, Dixon, Galeana, Joliet, Litchfield, Libertyville, Moline, Quincy, Rock Island, Springfield, Waukegan.

New dry counties: Boone, Christian, DeKalb, Dewitt, Franklin, Fulton, Henry, Jersey, Knox, Livingston, Macomb, McLean, Schuyler, Stephenson, Warren and Winnebago.

What Women Did in Illinois Wiped out 1,100 saloons, upsetting male wet majorities in several large cities.

Helped swell wet majorities in Springfield and few other cities.

Caused election of three nonpartisan and two progressive aldermen in Chicago, who were defeated in male voting.

Cast nearly half of 53,143 votes for nonpartisan candidates in Chicago though woman's vote was only one-third of total for entire city.

Miss Marion H. Drake out "Bathhouse John" Coughlin's normal plurality by 600, polling more than double the vote cast for Coughlin's male opponent in 1912.

Elected several score of women tax collectors and school officials in Illinois.

Cast heavier vote in Chicago in proportion to registration than men.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Women's first use of the ballot as a weapon in Illinois worked radical changes. Nearly complete returns early today show that suffrage votes in yesterday's election drove 1,100 saloons out of Illinois and added great strength to the nonpartisan movement in Chicago politics.

"Votes for Women" added sixteen counties to the dry column, now numbering forty-six in Illinois, and several large cities will close their saloons. With few exceptions, the male vote alone in these cities and townships favored the "wets," the women voting heavily against the saloons. In a few cities, however, women helped swell the majority in favor of retaining the saloon. This was true in Springfield, the capital of the state.

Each of the eight women candidates for aldermen in Chicago was defeated, including Miss Marion H. Drake. On the other hand, women voters eliminated several candidates held undesirable and forced the election of three more nonpartisan candidates to the city council.

In proportion to the number of both sex registered, women cast a heavier vote yesterday in Chicago than the men. The total male vote was 324,750 and the female vote was 164,026.

BOLLES LEADS IN FIGHT OVER BOARD

Has Nearly 100 Votes More than Nearest of Eight Candidates for Rulers of Country Schools

NEEDHAM, BERG AND WHITBECK OUT

Practically Conceded that the Other Five Candidates Will Be Elected to the Office

With returns in from eleven out of thirteen precincts in the county, Frank N. Bolles leads the field of eight candidates for positions on the county board of education. J. M. Halderson is second, L. C. McClintock third, S. P. Markle fourth and Henry T. Richmond fifth.

It is practically conceded that Oliver Needham, W. F. Whitbeck and N. C. Berg stand no chance of election to the board, in view of the leads which the nearly complete returns give the other five candidates.

The standings so far are: Bolles, 638. Halderson, 551. McClintock, 536. S. P. Markle, 516. H. T. Richmond, 430. Needham, 414. Berg, 412. Whitbeck, 402.

The new state law providing for the election of county boards of education also provides that the highest five candidates shall hold the office.

In the majority of town and village elections there was little change this year. In only two of the towns

Hamilton for Good Roads The town of Hamilton is for good roads. This fact was made apparent yesterday at the town meeting. Not only did the farmers lustily and unanimously turn down Governor McGovern's proposed repeal of the good roads appropriation, but also they voted an additional $9,000 in taxes for the roads and bridges of their town.

Among the roads that will be macadamized is the North Salem road, the Mindoro road, Wet Coulee road, Nesbrough Burns road and the South Salem road to the Barre line. The improvements proposed will mean the paving of the North Salem road all the way from West Salem to La Crosse.

was there any change in chairmen, and in those two only because the present incumbents refused to run. These two towns were Barre, where Fred Walters succeeded W. D. Stratman, and Holland, where J. M. Nelson succeeded W. D. Sandman.

The village and town officers elected yesterday throughout the county follow:

Village of West Salem President, N. C. Sanders; trustees, A. C. Cullman, C. B. Mercereau, W. S. McEldowney; clerk, S. W. Brown; treasurer, J. E. Norris; supervisor, J. H. FEDERALS GUARD THE REFUGEES

They Are Taken Into City and Foreign Warships Are Prepared to Protect Them

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Gen. Carranza has refused the unofficial request of this country to protect the Spaniards in Mexico and to rescind Gen. Pancho Villa's order deporting 600 Spanish subjects from Torreon.

The state department today announced that one of its representatives at Juarez made the unofficial representation to Carranza. The supreme chief of the constitutionalists replied that he could not interfere with Villa's orders.

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 8.—A long refugee train carrying 612 Spanish refugees and 165 federal prisoners from Torreon arrived in Juarez at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. The doors of the cars were locked and no passengers were permitted to leave the train until after daylight. It was long after noon before the last of them set foot on the friendly soil of the United States.

The condition of the passengers, many of whom had been on the train for forty-six hours, was pitiable. No opportunity for leaving the train for relaxation or recreation had been given since the train left Torreon, shortly before midnight, Monday.

Four passengers died on the way, and many were sick. Members of the Spanish colony of El Paso, many of whom are exiles from Chihuahua, were at the international bridge to greet their brother exiles and the pitiable scenes enacted at the time of the expulsion of the Spaniards from Chihuahua City were re-enacted.

Among the exiles were a number of priests and nuns, who regardless of their holy calling, were compelled to leave the scene of their labors.

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 8.—According to official advices received at General Carranza's headquarters here today, the constitutionalist forces, commanded by General Caballero succeeded in capturing a portion of the city of Tampico at 11 a. m. Tuesday and at the time of the sending of the dispatch, serious street fighting was in progress.

The attack on Tampico followed the twelve hour battle of Monday, which resulted in the capture, by the constitutionalists, of Dona Cecilia and Escuela Del Monte, two important outposts which command the approach to the city from the harbor, twelve miles distant.

Fighting is Serious VERA CRUZ, April 8.—Fighting between the federals and rebels about Tampico has now assumed serious proportions according to advices received here today. The rebels have captured Dona Cecilia and Arbol Grande. The refinery of the Waters-Pierce Oil company has been made the headquarters of the rebels at Dona Cecilia. The battleship Utah may leave for Tampico.

Await Artillery WASHINGTON, April 8.—Sharp fighting at Tampico was reported to the navy department today in a wireless dispatch from Rear Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz. The skirmish, however, was not believed by Rear Admiral Mayo, at Tampico, to be the contemplated serious attack. Admiral Fletcher's dispatch said: "Sharp fighting continued throughout the day at Tampico until sunset. The federal gunboat Vera Cruz kept up firing all day and at nightfall the federals were driven back into the town. Rear Admiral Mayo does not believe there is a serious attack on Tampico, as there was nothing to indicate that the rebels had artillery. But I am informed that they expect to receive artillery soon. There was some alarm in the town, but it was not acute. Rear Admiral Mayo has brought the American women and children into the town from Dona Cecilia. Some noncombatants have been injured. The federal gunboat Progresso at Tamesi bridge did some firing. The German cruiser Dresden has arrived. The Cincinnati, Minneapolis, Des Moines, Chesapeake and the other ships of the fleet are en route."

West Salem Shippers Petition Railway Commission to Order Passing Track

CLAIM DISCRIMINATORY RATES

Allege that Northwestern Road Has Not Treated Them Fairly

A petition requesting the Wisconsin Railway commission to order a cross-over track to be constructed at West Salem, connecting the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway company tracks and the Northwestern tracks has been filed with the commission.

The petition represents the views of West Salem shippers who claim discriminatory rates on the Northwestern. Many of the shippers are situated on the Northwestern tracks and are thus forced to ship on the Northwestern, as the lesser of the two evils. They declare that the construction of a cross-over track will enable them to load cars on the Northwestern tracks, have them switched to the Milwaukee yards and routed over the latter company's tracks. The West Salem shippers are represented by City Attorney J. E. Higbee of La Crosse.

The shippers in filing their petition with the commission set forth as an example of discrimination in the freight rates, the comparative rates between La Crosse and St. Paul, Bangor and St. Paul, Sparta and St. Paul and West Salem and St. Paul.

In the petition it is claimed that the Northwestern rate in the latter case is higher than is the case in shipments from La Crosse, Bangor and parts.

Meyer is sixty years old and Mrs. Meyer 35. They were married in Altoona, Pa., in 1911. Mrs. Meyer, at 14, acted as flower girl at her sister's wedding to Meyer. Meyer paid much attention to the child and married her when the elder sister died in 1905.

F. W. Sisson, E. A. Forss and G. F. Flynn Tell Convenience of Service

Within the next two weeks the Minnesota railway and warehouse commission will hand down a decision ordering the continuation of the second passenger train on the Renovo-Preston branch of the C. M. & St. P., or giving the company permission to discontinue the service. This announcement was made by Commissioner C. F. Staple following a red hot attack on the company by O. K. Dahle, president of the Caledonia Commercial club at yesterday's hearing.

Presents Petition In the closing address Mr. Dahle presented a petition for the continuation of the extra passenger train, signed by 900 citizens of Fillmore and Houston counties, and resolutions adopted by 200 Caledonia farmers, 100 La Crosse jobbers and the Houston county board of supervisors.

Concern of opinion following the advertisement of the commission yesterday, that the company will be ordered to continue the service.

C. F. Bacon, the station agent at Caledonia, sprung a surprise during the afternoon session, when he testified that the sale of passenger tickets at the Caledonia station has been approximately $200 greater per month this year than during the same months last year, despite the reduction of passenger rates from three to two cents per mile.

The afternoon session of the hearing was opened with the cross examination of General Superintendent W. S. Cooper by Attorney Dahle. In opening the examination Mr. Dahle

ONE-EIGHTH BARLEY GROWN IN STATE

Wisconsin Produces 3,125,000 Bushels of the 25,000,000 Raised by Entire Nation

MADISON, Wis., April 8.—In a bulletin on barley culture in Wisconsin by Professors R. A. Moore and A. L. Stone of the state college of agriculture, issued today, it is stated that approximately one-eighth of all the barley grown in the United States, or about 25,000,000 bushels, is Wisconsin barley. The main barley growing section is in southeastern Wisconsin in Dodge, Washington, Dane, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Manitowish and Calumet counties. The area is being extended, however, and several western counties are producing considerable amounts. The classes which have proved the best yields in Wisconsin are six-rowed bearded varieties, known as Oederbrucker, Mansbury, Silver King, and Golden Queen. Twelve years of barley improvement by selection and breeding have been completed at the experiment station, and the results are seen in higher average yields from the new Wisconsin pedigreed varieties.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — Brenda's Annual Easter Visit to the Children's Ward

DADDY had seen a little girl that day, a little daughter of a great friend of his, and he had had quite a chat with her. He wanted, of course, to tell Jack and Evelyn all about it.

"What is her name?" was Evelyn's first question.

"Her name is Brenda, and I'm sure when I've told you about her you children will both want to meet her and know her."

"She told me that every year at Easter time she went to the head nurse of the big hospital and found out the names of all the children. Then she went shopping, and it took her a long time to pick out things for little sick children. She picked out for each child a big round chocolate egg which rattled, for inside it there were little sugar candies; also a chocolate chicken and a chocolate bunny. She always picked out ones that had lots of expression, too. Around the egg she tied a big red ribbon, around the chocolate chicken's neck she tied a bright green ribbon, and around the bunny's neck she tied a bright purple ribbon. Then she put them in a little box and wrote on the box the child's name."

"Last year Brenda went to the hospital the day before Easter. It was far from being a pleasant day. There was a cold wind in the air and no sun."

"She arrived at the hospital just as all the little children had had their wounds dressed. They were lying in their little white cots trying to keep back the tears that wanted to come."

"Brenda asked the nurse if she could go inside with the gifts."

"Yes, indeed," said the nurse. "The children would love that. The child's name in the first cot," continued the nurse very softly, "is Elsa. She has hurt her back, and no one knows how long she will have to lie there."

"Elsa," said Brenda, "happy Easter. A little chocolate bunny, a little chocolate chicken and a big chocolate egg all said they wanted to wish you a happy Easter."

"Elsa opened her half shut eyes and clutched the box. She opened it eagerly. There they all were! And the chocolate bunny did have the funniest expression! He would have made any one laugh, and his purple ribbon bow was sticking way up on one side with such a saucy expression. Elsa burst out laughing. Afterward the nurse told Brenda it was the first time she'd seen Elsa laugh since she'd been brought to the hospital."

"Then Brenda told the rest of her boxes around to all the other little sick children. And such happiness as there was in the ward!"

"Oh, I wish we could go with Brenda this Easter!" said Evelyn.

"I knew you would want to help her," said daddy. "So I have already arranged it, and you shall meet her tomorrow."

MARRIAGE MACHINE MADE

BY LOUISE OLNEY

Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Richard Kemp sat talking to the girl's mother when Teresa ran in laughing and too excited to notice his presence.

"Mother! What do you think? Sam has a car, a beauty! I've never been crazy about them, you know, nor minded because father can't afford one yet, but Sam's is a duck! He's whirled me all over the country this afternoon. Look at my hair! We're going again this evening."

Teresa King put up both hands and twisted back the curling brown hair that was loosened by the wind to the falling point. Her mother smiled at her impetuosity.

"Glad you enjoyed it, daughter. But don't turn your back on your guest." Mrs. King's tone was dry. Teresa turned quickly.

"Richard Kemp, whoever knew you to hide your light under a bushel even long enough for me to finish raving about anything? What you doing here?"

Kemp rose, rather short and fair with Irish eyes, and gave the girl the grin that endeared him to many friends.

"Doing here? What I've been doing since boyhood? Waiting 'round for you. I was going to ask you to walk over to the river with me tonight, but Sam seems to have cut in ahead of me."

"Has mother asked you to dinner, or do I have to invite you?"

"I'd about decided to stay without being invited," he remarked, gracefully sure of his welcome, "but since you're going out afterward—"

"Stay, anyway. Go with us, Dicky."

Richard Kemp laughed. "I've some sense left! Sam would be lovely to me and wish I were in—jail! You're his for the evening. If that isn't like a girl!" he laughed again. "I never saw a girl yet that didn't want to hold on to one man while she played with another. I'll stay to dinner, but after that I'm off, Miss Teresa King."

Richard Kemp, with his usual autogeneity, had hit the nail on the head, which was proved in that glorious month of May. The girl seemed to want both men. Teresa had always favored a bit between him and Sam, giving him the preference. But Sam plus the new dark-blue car was a dangerous combination. Not that she was the sort to fall in love with a man just for his car, but the car gave the man limitless opportunities to be with her. And propinquity is dangerous. Richard took to shrugging his shoulders a lot these days, and to being very gay, much in the spirit of the small boy, who whistles to keep from being afraid. It began to seem as if he almost never got a talk or a tramp with the girl as of old, and he missed her more than he had known would be possible.

With the missing came a fear of losing his chance with her that put him at a disadvantage because it impaired his self confidence. He felt that when he was with her he was stiff, in spite of himself, and a little sore. Sam, always his friend, was triumphant cheerfulness itself. Why shouldn't he be, with the finest car and the prettiest girl almost at his command? Richard thought Sam was secretly sorry for him, and this touched his pride to the quick. Tessa's mother, always Richard's close friend, spoke out to him one day when, as usual, he had found Tessa gone motoring.

"With Sam, I suppose?" he said, shortly.

"Yes, Dicky," she said, quietly. "Is my girl making you unhappy? If she is, I'm sorry."

"Are they engaged?" he asked like a shot. "It wouldn't be like Tessa not to tell me, first of anybody but you."

"I'm sure they're not," she said, gently. "But what are you doing to

She didn't know her mind then. I suppose this'll be one of those machine-made marriages. Even if I didn't want her myself, I know that Sam isn't the man for her. Oh, he's not bad. He's only a careless rich man's son who has never learned self discipline. It takes the discipline of having to earn every cent you get to make a man appreciate what money means. It's all I can do not to take every dollar I own out of the bank and buy a car. It's the money I wanted to start housekeeping with, you know." He laughed in a hurt sort of way.

"I understand. But you're right not to," Mrs. King said.

"Without a car I can't get the girl, and if I get the car I can't keep the girl if I had her," he said, laughing ruefully. "That's my fix. It's a bad one. I've a good salary, but it takes something to start with. Sam has everything now. I'm a selfish bound, I suppose, to let myself think I'm the only man that could make her happy. Do you know, I can't help thinking that she was beginning 'really to care for me? I can't tell you just why but—I know she did. And now she acts uneasy when we're alone, and as if she wanted to get away from me. It freezes me up so I can't say anything, or be myself at all. I'm simply losing her." He was silent a moment, and the woman spoke slowly.

"Not even a mother can speak for her daughter's heart," she said. "But if my girl ever loved you Sam's possessions would not change her. Did it ever occur to you that she might think that you have ceased to care? Haven't you been running around with Vinnie Newcome?"

"Of course! he said hotly, jumping up. "Did she expect me to stand for all time gazing after her while she rode about with Sam? Of course, I've been running with Vinnie! I like Vinnie, despite her cursed money! There, I beg pardon, I'm off my head these days. I'd better go."

"You'd better go straight for my daughter at the first chance and have it out with her. That's the only way. Have you thought of that?"

"Yes; but something's told me to wait," he answered slowly. As he spoke, he heard Sam's siren, and in a moment they both saw Sam letting Tessa out at the curb. He leaned possessively over her.

"The other man isn't waiting," commented Mrs. King, dryly. "I'm going upstairs. Do as you please as to my advice. I know it's good."

She went away and in a moment Teresa entered, glowing, but with a tired look about her eyes. Something primitive waked in Richard Kemp and he sprang up and seized her by the arm rather fiercely. She had not seen him till then and gave a little cry.

"Dicky!" Then, half angrily, "What do you mean? Let me go."

"Teresa King," said the boy in a half-smothered tone, "I want to know right now what you're going to do with me? That's what I mean. I love you and want to marry you, and I've been at your heels like a puppy since I was five and you three years old. Are you in love with Sam? Are you going to marry him? If you are, I want to know it now."

so that I can begin to try to forget you. I've been in misery for weeks. Womanlike, she turned on him with the blame.

"You've been constantly with that Vinnie Newcome for weeks, if you call that misery," she said, coldly.

"Jealous, are you?" he asked, pulling her toward him, though she resisted. "You were constantly with another man. Was I to roll up my eyes on the mourner's bench and give you your fling? This is the question: Do you love me, or don't you? You're altogether too sure of me, but I don't mind that. Tessa!" his voice softened and pleaded suddenly. "You know there's nobody in the world but you!"

"Oh, Dicky, why didn't you say so?" She gave a hysterical little laugh, clinging to his arm with both hands. Then she let him draw her to him and hold her very close. "I'm saying so now, Tessa. Won't that do? Now, shall we have a car first and a roof and food afterward, or reverse the order?"

She drew a way and looked at him keenly. "You dear old idiot!" she said, "anything's good with you."

"W'S" TO BE AWARDED

MADISON, Wis., April 8.—The athletic board of the University of Wisconsin has passed an amendment awarding a varsity "W" to men who play in a minimum of four conference halves or two full halves against Chicago—plus the recommendation of the coach—provided that not more than eight "W" are awarded in one season.

UNCLE SAM AND HIS TREATY FAITH

Attention is called to the fact that, should we repudiate the clause in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty providing for its use on terms of equality, it will not be the first time the United States has violated a treaty agreement. The surrender of General Gates at Saratoga during the Revolutionary war was upon a parole agreement which was immediately disregarded. Following the Revolution a clause in the Treaty of Paris providing against legislative repudiation of debts by the colonies was violated by their legislatures. Upon this subject Harper's quotes a "dispassionate" writer as having said: "Coming off second best in a bargain has never been to the taste of America—the violation of the Saratoga treaty remains as a blot on the luster of the American Revolution." This magazine adds that "the knavery of a people without previous international relations is a proper characterization of the violation of the treaty of Paris." You see, we have a reputation, such as it is.

CAMPBELL TAKES A WISE STEP

The action of the Town of Campbell in voting to close the roadhouses from midnight until six A. M. will have the endorsement of the entire community. While a majority of people would have been better pleased had these institutions, as they now exist, been wiped out, the confinement of their activities to the period named will do much to mitigate the bad effects for which they are responsible. The time from midnight until early morning is the harvest of these brothels, and it is after twelve o'clock that their character as social evils enjoys its active phase. The rule having been established, the question of enforcement becomes paramount. As the county attorney was the active factor in the adoption of the new rule, it need not be doubted that he will exert his best efforts to secure the fruits of regulation.

A PRACTICAL MARKET PLAN

About four years ago, when a city market was first discussed, The Tribune suggested that the merchants maintain a buyer to take all offerings of farm products at the top market price for the day. There have been many schemes since then, in some of which the buyer figured. We believe that no plan in which such a buyer is not contemplated would be of avail. To have a market place without a dependable top-price buyer, would not appeal to the farmers.

The suggestion of A. A. Bentley adds a vital item to the plan to maintain a market place and a market buyer. In all schemes heretofore there has been lacking that avenue of exchange between the trade and the farmer. In some cases the farmer would have dealt directly with individual home buyers, and in others he would have depended entirely upon a foreign market to dispose of that which he has for sale. Under the Bentley system every possible channel for the disposal of that which is purchased is open. The farmer coming to the market could take the higher profits of direct retail distribution at the market place. Should this fail to dispose of his entire offering he could appeal to the quotation board and find what local grocer or dealer was in the market for his product. And there would still be the city buyer and shipper to take over everything not absorbed by the local demand. In that way every available market opportunity is afforded.

We like Mr. Bentley's idea of a stenographer and a record showing what merchants are in the market for certain products and to what extent. We like the entire arrangement which he proposes. There is but one thing which, in our mind, is debatable. It is possible that the farmer would be much better pleased were he paid in cash or checks for his products, rather than to be given an option upon an order upon any store or institution.

Mr. Dittman, president of the Merchants' association, has said positively that there will be a market of this sort. This rings right. It indicates a determination on the part of the merchants to get together on a substantial proposition. We believe it will be the making of La Crosse as a farm trade center. If the market is established the free bridge cannot fail to follow.

TWO POINTS OF VIEW

As the farmers of the state are hot on the trail of the real and removable causes of the ruinously mounting state taxes, the governor's attempt to draw a red herring across the trail with his good roads appropriations referendum will not throw them off the scent.—The Sentinel.

The taxes here do not seem high to me in comparison with those in foreign countries. My investigations of the statistics in Germany lead me to believe that the proportion of income applied to taxes is between 10 and 12 per cent, while in Japan it should estimate that the proportion is about 15 per cent.—S. Fugli of the financial ministry of Japan.

At last even your Uncle Isaac Stephenson arises to declaim that "the people are being taxed to death." No doubt there is something in this rumor to the effect that Senator Stephenson will "run again."

Replying to what it called "slum language" of a socialist publication, The Milwaukee News referred to the "serpent of socialism." No wonder the market for "snake bite" is so active in Milwaukee.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Wealth
A pipe, a book,
A place to sit
And watch the birds
Of summer flit
From bough to bough
And warble lays
Of gladness brought
By summer days.
A hammock in
A shady place,
A chance to look
On nature's face
In admiration
Of her charms,
A mile away
From those alarms
We find so oft
Where'er we go
Where'er the tides
Of commerce flow.
A chance to stop
Beside the way
Retiring from
The worldly fray.
A chance to drop
The cares of life,
Forgetting all
Of worldly strife.
To have content
And easy mind,
And pleasant thoughts
Of human kind,
Enough to eat
And perfect health—
That's what makes up
Our dream of wealth.

The Best Course
At the Lambs' club one night a players whose conceit is in inverse ratio to his ability was complaining to William Collier that, by reason of the curious hostility of the critics, he was unable to obtain a lucrative engagement.
"What do they say?" asked Collier.
"That's just it—they don't say anything about me. I tell you there is a conspiracy of silence against me. What would you do?"
"Join it," advised Collier.—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Spring Touch
Mrs. Smart—George, dear, while you are having money troubles, I ought to tell you this. I learned to-day why your rival Mr. Filbb's credit has suddenly become so good.
Smart—Well, why?
Mrs. Smart—I overheard someone remark that Filbb's finances must be all right, because his wife was wearing such elegant new hats and gowns.

What Would Happen
The sexton had been laying a new carpet on the pulpit platform, and had left a number of tacks scattered on the floor.
"See here, James," said the pastor, "what do you suppose would happen if I stepped on one of those tacks right in the middle of my sermon?"
"Well, sir," replied the sexton, "I reckon there'd be one point you wouldn't linger on."—Pathfinder.

Consolation
Clergyman (late come to parish)—Your neighbor Smith says my sermons are rubbish.

IMPORTANT TO ALL WOMEN READERS OF THIS PAPER

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.
Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.
You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.
Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

PERUNA RESTORES A Chronic Invalid

Mrs. Sophie Bauer, 521 First Ave., North, Faribault, Minn., writes: "I cannot praise your wonderful medicine, Peruna, enough. It has done much for me during the past ten years, and I keep it in the house continually. I was in such a condition that I could eat nothing but bread and milk, and even that was too heavy for me at times. Now I can eat anything. I will recommend Peruna to all my friends."

The effect of Peruna on digestion is immediate—sometimes wonderful, as in Mrs. Bauer's case. Sharpens appetite, quickens digestion and stimulates the bowels. A most convenient and valuable family medicine. In tablet or liquid form as preferred.

Send for a free copy of "The Ills of Life." The Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Profited by the Sermon
"Eh," said Sandy to the minister, "you was a powerful doersome on 'Thrift' ye preached the Sabbath?"
"Ah, glad ye were able to profit," said the minister.
"Profit! Why mon, I would have pit ma saxe into the plate without a thought if it had not been for your providential words! They saved me fourpence there and then!"—London Tit-Bits.

The Ultima Thule
A well known preacher was making a pedestrian excursion in a wild rural district in the west of Connemara. Feeling rather hungry he looked at his watch to see if it was nearly dinner time, but found the watch was stopped. Just then, happening to meet with a country boy, he asked him:
"What time is it, my boy?"
"Just twelve, sir."
"Only twelve," said the minister.
"I thought it was more."
"It never is more around these parts," said the boy, simply. "It begins again at one."

PARROT & CO.

The other read it carefully. It was romance, romance such as he liked to read in his books, but which was mighty bewildering to have at his elbow in actuality. What a life the man must have led! And here he was, with no more evidence of the conflict than might be discerned in the manliness of his face and the breadth and depth of his shoulders. He dropped the cutting, impatiently.

"Don't you believe it?"
"Believe it? Oh, this? Yes," answered the consul-general. "What I can not believe is that I am awake. I can not quite make two and two equal four."

"Which infers?"
"That I can not . . . Well, you do not look like a man who would rob his employer of eight thousand dollars."

"Much obliged."
"Parrot & Co. It's odd, but I recollect that title. You were at Udapur during the plague."
Warrington brightened. "So that's got about? I happened to be there, working on the prince's railway."

"I will send the cable at once. You will doubtless hear from New York in the morning. But you must not see Miss Chetwood again."
"You will let me bid her good-by. I admire and respect her more than any other woman. She does not know it, for as yet her soul is asleep; but she is one of those few women God puts on earth for the courage and comfort of men. Only to say good-by to her. Here in this office, if you wish."

"I agree to that."
"Thank you again," Warrington rose.
"I am genuinely sorry for you. If they say no, what will you do?"
"Go back just the same. I have another debt to cancel."
"Call in the morning. I'll let you know what the charges are."

"I forgot. Here are twenty pounds. You can return the balance when I call. I am very grateful."
"By the way, there is a man here by the name of Mallow," began the consul-general.
"Yes," interrupted Warrington, with a smile which was grim and cruel. "I expect to call upon him. He owes me something like fifty pounds, and I am going to collect it." Then he went out.

The consul-general dropped Mallow's perfect into the waste-basket and lighted his pipe. Once more he read the cablegram. The Andes Construction Company. What a twist, what an absurd kink in the skein! Nearly all of Elsa's wealth lay bound up in this enormous business which General Chetwood had founded thirty odd years before. And neither of them knew!

"I am not a bad man at heart," he mused, "but I liked the young man's expression when I mentioned that bully Mallow."
He joined his family at five. He waved aside tea, and called for a lemon-squash.
"Elsa, I am going to give you a lecture."
"Didn't I tell you?" cried Elsa to the wife. "I felt in my bones that he was going to say this very thing. She turned to her old-time friend. "Go on; lecture me."

"In the first place, you are too kind-hearted."
"That will be news to my friends. They say I have a heart of ice."
"And what you think is independence of spirit is sometimes indiscretion."
"Oh," said Elsa becoming serious. "A man came into my office today. He is a rich corn-grower from Penang. He spoke of you. You passed him on going out. If I had been twenty years younger I'd have punched his ugly head. His name is Mallow, and he's not a savory chap."

Elsa's cheeks burned. She never would forget the look in that man's eyes. The look might have been in other men's eyes, but conventional had always veiled it; she had never seen it before.
"Go on," but her voice was unsteady.
"Somewhere along the Irrawaddy you made the acquaintance of a young man who calls himself War-ington, familiarly known as Parrot & Co. I'll be generous. Not one woman in a thousand would have declined to accept the attentions of such a man. He is cultivated, undeniably good-looking, a strong man, mentally and physically."

Elsa's expression was now enigmatical.
"There's not much veneer to him. He fooled me unintentionally. He was quite evidently born a gentleman, of a race of gentlemen. His is not an isolated case. One misstep, and the road to the devil."
The consul-general's wife sent a startled glance at Elsa, who spun her sunshade to lighten the tension of her nerves.
"He confessed frankly to me this morning that he is a fugitive from justice. He wishes to return to America. He recounted the circumstances of your meeting. To me the story appeared truthful enough. He said that you sought the introduction because of his amazing likeness to the man you are going home to marry."

"That is true," replied Elsa. "Uncle Jim, I have traveled pretty much over this world, and I never met a gentleman if Warrington is not one." There was unconscious belligerency in her tone.
"Ah, there's the difficulty which women will never be made to understand. Every man can, at one time or another, put himself upon his good behavior. Underneath he may be a fine rascal."

"Not this one," smiling. "He warned me against himself a dozen times, but that served to make me stubborn. The fault of my conduct," he said, "was not in making this pariah's acquaintance. It lies in the fact that I had nothing to do with the other passengers, from choice. That is where I was indiscreet. But why should I put myself out to gain the good wishes of people for whom I have no liking; people I shall probably never see again when I leave this port?"

"You forget that some of them will be your fellow passengers all the way to San Francisco. My child, you know as well as I do that there are some laws which the Archangel Michael would have to obey, did he wish to inhabit this earth for a while."
"Poor Michael! And if you do not obey these laws, people talk."
"Exactly. There are two sets of man-made laws. One governs the conduct of men and the other the conduct of women."
"And a man may break any one of these laws, twist it, rearrange it to suit his immediate needs. On the other hand, the woman is always manacled."
"Precisely."

MADISON, Wis., April 8.—The rates of the Monroe Electric company are readjusted in a decision of the state railroad commission this morning. The commission found after an investigation that in commercial lighting the revenues of the company exceed its cost by $14,500; in commercial power the revenues are $800 less than cost and in street lighting the revenues exceed the cost by $1,300.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR BACK HURTS, FLUSH YOUR KIDNEYS WITH SALTS

Meat forms uric acid, which clogs Kidneys, irritates Bladder or causes Rheumatism

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regu-lar meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Agent, Chas. A. Beyschlag, Druggist, 503 Main St.

Helping Kidneys By Clearing Blood

A Function Greatly Assisted By a Well-Known Remedy.

Most readers will be interested to more clearly understand why analysis of urine is so important. In the use of S. S. S. to purify the blood, its action is a stimulant to the myriads of the blood vessels that make up the constructive tissues of the kidneys. All the blood from all over the body must pass through the kidneys. They act as test tubes and assayers. And according to what they allow to pass out in the urine, both as to quantity and materials, the health of the kidneys and the quality of the blood is determined. The catalytic energy forced by S. S. S. is shown in the urine. It is also demonstrated in the skin. And as the blood continues to sweep through the kidneys the dominating nature of S. S. S. acting as it does through all the avenues of elimination, shows a marked decrease of disease manifestations as demonstrated by urine analysis. This assistance is a great relief to the kidneys. The body wastes are more evenly distributed to the excretories; their elimination is stimulated by the tonic action afforded the liver, lungs, skin and kidneys. Thus, in cases of rheumatism, erythema, chronic sore throat, hushiness of voice, bronchitis, asthma and the myriad of other reflex indications of weak kidney action, first purify your blood with S. S. S., so it will enable the tissues to rebuild the cellular structure and regain the normal health.

S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 227 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you have any deep-seated or obstinate blood trouble, write to their Medical Dept. for free advice.

RUSSIAN YOUTHS OUTRAGE AND KILL DAUGHTER OF JEW

BERLIN, April 8.—One of the most revolting crimes in the dark history of Russia was reported here today in a special dispatch from St. Petersburg, telling of three Russian youths having outraged and then crucified the daughter of a poor Jewish fisherman in Stavropol on the Volga. After outraging the young girl, the three youths dragged her to a cemetery where they nailed her to a cross above one of the graves. Nails were driven through her hands and feet and even through her eyes. The three murderers were arrested, but their friends in the town released them and they escaped, it is asserted.

New Factory Starts Up in Full Blast Today After Ten Days of Moving

Work in the new building of the La Crosse Rubber Mills company began in full force this morning. A crew of fifty men started a week and a half ago moving the machinery and other apparatus from the old frame buildings into the new structure, and last night the last finishing touches were added.

All the work will henceforth be done in the new building, the old frame building to be used as warehouses and store rooms. The factory offices are on the first floor, the packing room on the second floor, the bench work all being on the third floor.

ECZEMA BROKE OUT IN WATER-BLISERS

Scratched It So Hard All Sore. On Hand, Then on Legs. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured in Six Weeks.

748 Congress St., Chicago, Ill.—"My eczema broke out like little water blisters. Each one was full of water and would itch until I would scratch it open, then the water would run out and it would get sore. I first got it on the back of the hand and I scratched it so hard I made it all sore. Then I got it on my legs just above the ankle and above the knee.

"I used what they call — and it stopped the itch but it got worse. Then I used — In all I had the trouble for about two years. One day I saw the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the paper. I wrote for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I tried them and then bought some more. Cuticura Soap and Ointment left my sores nice and smooth. I used them for six weeks, and am now cured; the eczema left no marks." (Signed) F. W. Horrich, Oct. 19, 1912.

Although the Cuticura Soap and Ointment are most successful in the treatment of affections of the skin, scalp, hair and hands, they are also most valuable for everyday use in the toilet, bath and nursery because they promote and maintain the health of the skin and hair from infancy to age. Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address—'Dear Sir: Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston.' #2—Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

STOPS FOR BREATH "SUFF" IS FINED

LONDON, April 8.—The magistrate before whom Mrs. "Gen." Drummond was arraigned finally solved the problem of conducting the hearing of the suffragette leader today when she was brought into court and immediately resumed her violent harangue against "man made" laws. The court simply waited until "Gen." Drummond was forced to stop from lack of breath. He then fined her $10. Mrs. Drummond paid the fine.

"Gen." Drummond was arrested for climbing upon unionist stands during the demonstration in Hyde park Saturday. Three attempts were made to hear her case Monday, but each time she launched into violent speeches of denunciation and it was impossible to quiet her.

SPARTA STORE IS ROBBED OF $400

Safe at Wakeman Brothers' Opened by Means of Combination Last Night

SPARTA, Wis., April 8.—(Special.)—Burglars entered the grocery store of Wakeman Brothers on West Oak street, here last night, and after rifling the safe departed with nearly $400 in cash.

The burglary was discovered at 7 o'clock this morning by Leo Wakeman when upon opening the store he found the safe door opened, the cash gone and checks, books and papers scattered about the floor in front of the safe.

Unlocked Safe
Mystery is added to the crime by the discovery that the safe was opened by means of the combination which tends to throw suspicion upon persons acquainted with the store. Other than the story of a stranger lounging about the place during the last few days, the authorities were unable to locate any clue which might lead to the arrest of the guilty parties.

Upon discovering the looting of the safe, Wakeman immediately notified the authorities and a close inspection of the store was made. It was found that the burglars procured entrance through a rear stairway from the back yard into the cellar and then entered the store through a trap door from the cellar.

Either before or after rifling the safe, the cash register was opened but it contained nothing of value. In removing the valuables from the safe several checks for large amounts were either overlooked or intentionally left behind.

Sheriff to La Crosse
Shortly after the report of the burglary, Sheriff Leo Vieth, of Monroe county left for La Crosse, it is believed on the trail of the stranger reported to have been seen about the store.

The common belief is that the stranger reported was one of a gang of burglars, and had been getting in touch with the place so as to make the looting of the store an easier job. Aside from the money, nothing else was removed from the store.

LOSS OF APPETITE IN THE SPRING

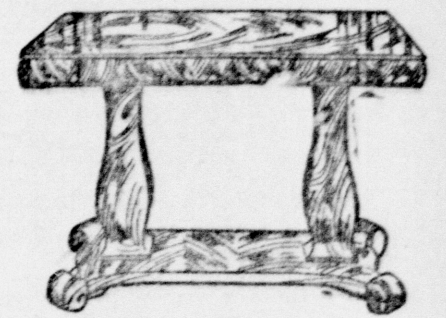

Loss of appetite is accompanied by loss of vitality, vigor or tone, which is a more serious loss. It is common in the spring because at this time the blood is impure and impoverished and fails to give the digestive organs what they need for the proper performance of their functions.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. It makes the rich red blood your whole system demands. It is not simply a spring medicine—but it is the best spring medicine.

WOMAN READER IN "EVERYWOMAN"

Miss Jeanette Kling will read the beautiful modern morality play "Everywoman" at the Baptist church Thursday evening. Miss Kling is recognized as one of the foremost readers and play-interpreters on the American stage. The Columbus Journal states:

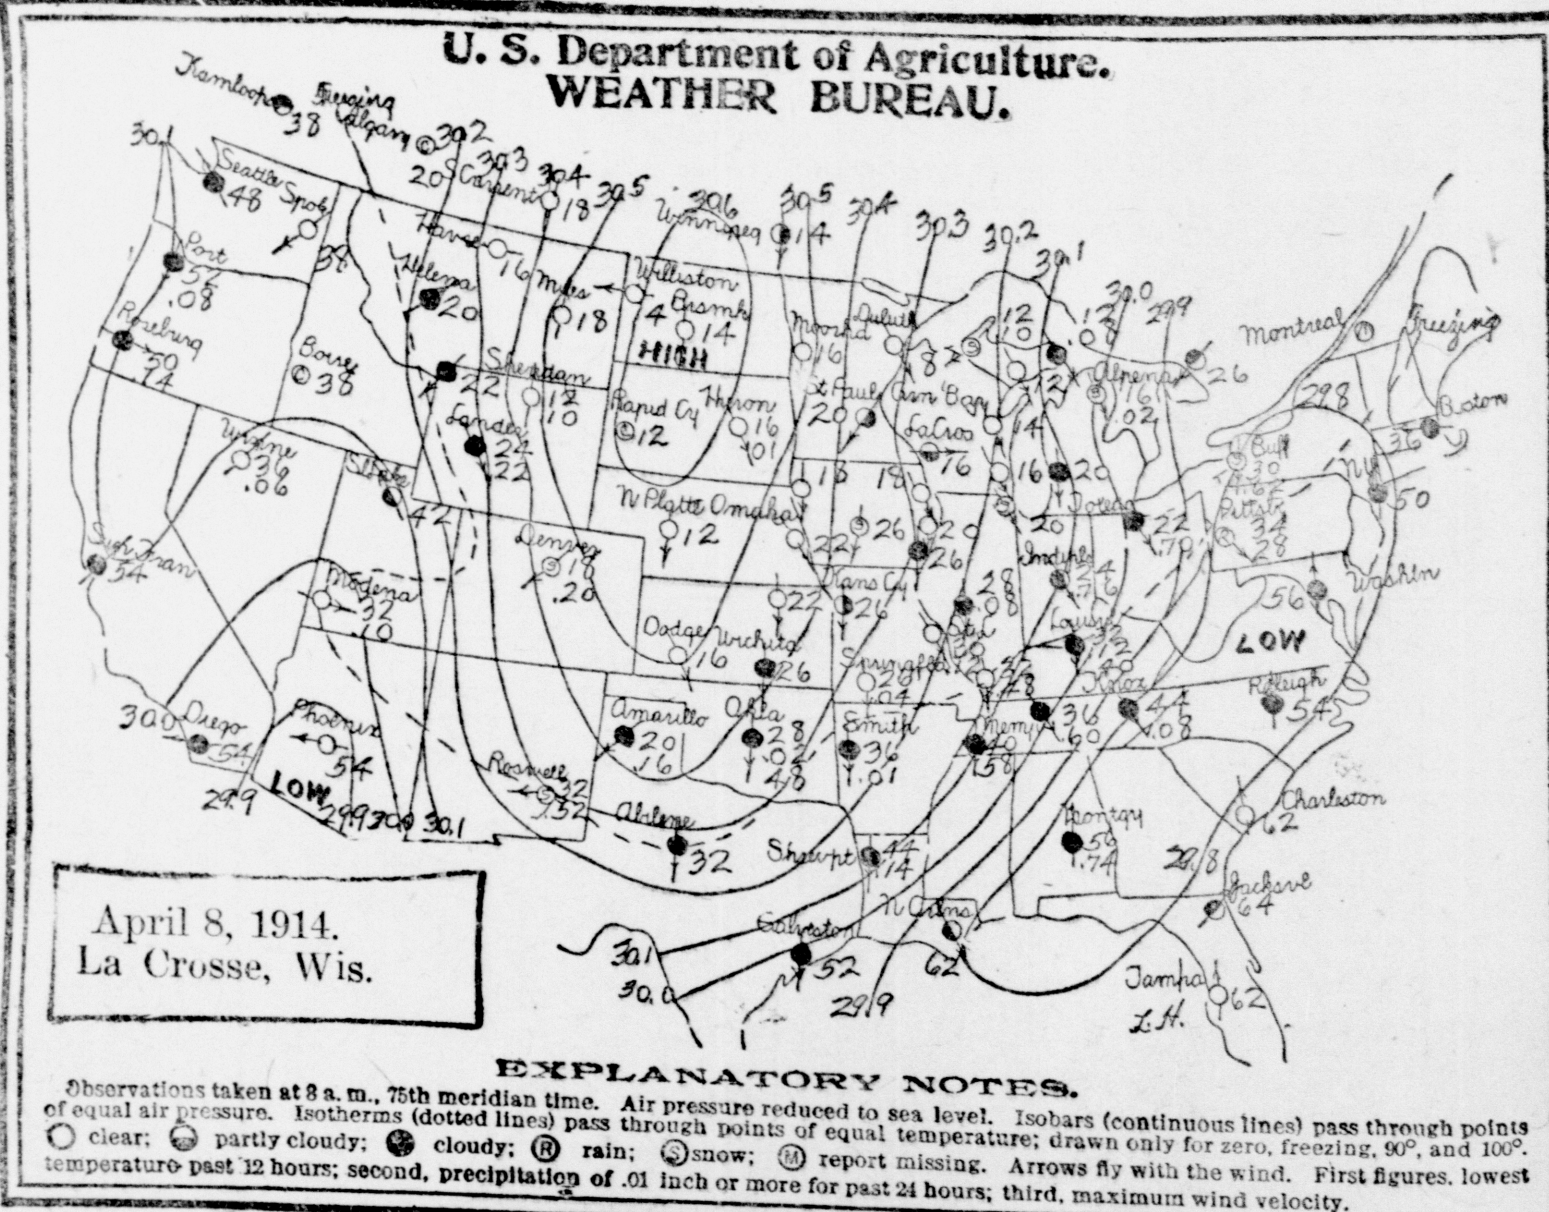

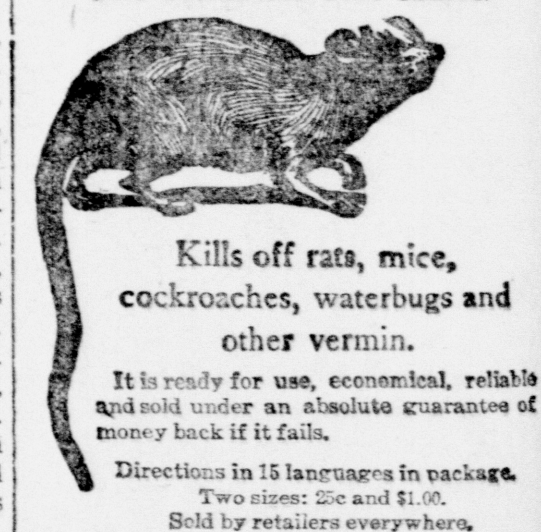

"Miss Kling's charming personality, together with her perfect interpretation of the characters in 'Everywoman' which she represented, proved her an artist in her profession."

Other newspaper comments are equally as strong. This is considered the strongest number on the lecture course which has been given by the Baptist Brotherhood, and it is hoped that a large audience will greet Miss Kling tomorrow evening, April 9.

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The Easiest and Best Way
Is to Dissolve It

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing else destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

A FAMOUS YANKEE

COMPOSER

Henry Clay Work and His Songs

Only those who lived during the Civil war can realize the power and influence exercised by the song writers of the time. Henry Clay Work, who was born at Middletown, Connecticut, in 1832, was imprisoned in Missouri for helping a fugitive slave to escape. He was a printer by trade and wrote "Kingdom Coming," "Babylon is Fallen," and in his "Come Home, Dear Father, Come Home" was a temperance sermon that never has seemed to lose its plaintive appeal. He was the author of "Grandfather's Clock," and at one time a member of the music firm of Root & Cady, Chicago. He invented a knitting machine and rotary engine, which gave him an independent fortune in later life, and he enjoyed the sunset of his busy career in a house at Hartford, Connecticut, not far from his birthplace. His songs had a great vogue in their time and still continue popular in the melodies of the old days.

Several of Work's famous old songs appear in "Heart Songs" now offered by this paper to its readers. A complete library of American Songs. See coupon elsewhere in this issue.

Film Flashes

The Studebaker theater in Chicago is now showing pictures exclusively. This is the fourth theater in the "loop" to be purchased by Jones, Linick & Schaefer for this purpose.

The late James A. Herne's plays are to be revived through the medium of pictures. The first to be shown will be "Hearts of Oak." This will be followed by "Shore Acres."

On the average ten reels of pictures are produced each week by the Vitagraph. Each reel averages 1,000 feet. The plant in Brooklyn, where most of the pictures are taken, covers two city blocks. The stock company includes 200 "regulars" and about 2,000 "extra" players.

"The Drug Terror," which is being produced under the auspices of the sociological fund of the Medical Review of Reviews has opened an indefinite engagement at McVickers in Chicago. It is produced in conjunction with the ever present war against the organized trade in cocaine, heroin and other habit forming drugs.

"Paid in Full" will be the next of the popular dramas to be shown in La Crosse. It is a production de luxe and is said to be even stronger than the "Third Degree." It will be seen at the Casino in the near future.

Lillian Gish, "the most beautiful blonde in pictures," will be seen here for the first time in a Majestic Mutual entitled "The Hunchback."

HOME RULE PASSES SECOND READING

Carries in House of Commons by a Vote of 356 to 276 Last Night

LONDON, April 8.—Final enactment of the Irish home rule bill in June was predicted today following the victory of the government last night when the measure was carried in the house of commons on second reading by a vote of 356 to 276.

It appears certain that the government has made its last offer of conciliation, and that the unionists must accept the measure in its present form or consent to an amendment excluding Ulster from the Dublin parliament for a period of six years.

The bill will reach the house of lords in early May where it will again be lost, but enacted by a third passage in the commons, by virtue of the veto act.

CAILLAUX TESTIFIES

PARIS, April 8.—Joseph Caillaux, former minister of finance, and husband of the assassin of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro, today appeared as a witness in Mme. Caillaux's hearing. Caillaux testified that he had feared the Figaro might publish personal letters. He declared that in 1909 two letters addressed to Mme. Rainouard, now his wife, disappeared from his desk. One of these was a sixteen page letter, telling intimate details of his life.

GIVES CHIP BOUT

NEITHER CANDIDATE CITIZEN

PITTSVILLE, Wis., April 8.—On the even of election after a bitter campaign the two candidates for mayor have been declared non-citizens under the new law regulating citizenship. A mass meeting will decide on one man acceptable to both parties.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

PLAT 'SHORE ACRES' NEW SUMMER CITY

Abstract of Up-river Summer Resort Shows 57 Transfers of Title Followed the Original

Abstracts have been received in the city from the county register of deeds at Caledonia, Houston county, Minn., covering the title and platting of La Crosse's newest summer resort, which will be known as "Shore Acres" from the fact that it contains twenty-two pieces of land or lots, each containing one acre, along the shores of the Mississippi.

"Shore Acres" is located on the Minnesota side of the river just above the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway bridge and extends from the north end of the sheer fence of the bridge, 2700 feet up the shore. The plat shows each lot with 100 feet shore frontage and 500 feet deep. Some of the lots in the center of the plat are almost 600 feet deep owing to the contour of the river bank.

Many Transfers
The abstracts covering this land are interesting in view of the number of transfers shown. More than fifty transfers of title have been recorded in Houston county since the land was first allotted by the government in the fifties. In recent years it was owned by Peter Ferguson of La Crescent, Minn., and by William Potter of the same place. By deeds recently recorded a large portion of the land between Bridge Switch and River Junction became the property of Mrs. E. C. Raymond, wife of Attorney Raymond, formerly of La Crosse.

Former Picnic Spot
The site of "Shore Acres" has been known for some years as the La Crescent picnic grounds, and is one of the few spots near La Crosse suitable for camping, picnicking and cottages, as it is above the high water mark. During the past five years the place has been occupied by campers every summer. It is understood that the tract is to be sold and that numerous cottages will be built there before the end of the present season. The place is accessible by road, water and rail, being only a short distance from the Bridge Switch station of the Milwaukee road and about two and one-half miles from the city.

Of the women graduates of the University of Wisconsin 45.3 per cent are engaged in gainful occupations.

Nervous mothers, worried from morning till night by the care of children and the duties of the household; nervous children worn out by overstudy, unable to sit still or stand still or to keep their minds concentrated on anything very long, both need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the blood and strengthen the nerves.

Try a short treatment with these strengthening pills and watch the color return to pale cheeks and lips, see how the worn nerves recover their poise, note how much less irritating the children become and how much less scolding they need. John H. Clarke.

John H. Clarke of Cleveland recently announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination to the United States senate from Ohio. Clarke earned political distinction in 1903 by advocating two-cent railroad fares, although he was attorney for two railroad companies at the time. He fought with Tom L. Johnson for three-cent street car fares in Cleveland. He has been a prominent anti-imperialist and peace advocate.

sometimes but not as a general rule.

Mr. Higbee: "This would decrease fuel charges?"

Mr. Cooper: "Yes."

Stapleton on Stand

Superintendent Stapleton took the stand later and testified that the poultry car for chicken crates had been added to the freight train, not because of lack of express facilities, but because of delay of the passenger train at Reno owing to the handling of the crates in changing from Dubuque division trains to trains on the Reno-Preston branch.

The following business men took the stand, testifying relative to conditions before and after the installation of the new passenger service: Harold Kuethe, Preston; C. Olson, Harmony; A. Otley, Canton; O. B. Nelson, Spring Grove; F. W. Sisson, E. A. Forss and G. F. Flynn, La Crosse; Ed Stenham and B. Seuffert, Caledonia; J. Fetzer, Brownsville; Hon. James Farrell, La Crosse, and Nick Roester, Freeburg.

These men testified to the following improvements since the new service has been installed:

1. The saving of one day's time on western return trips.
2. Facilitates work of commercial travelers and eliminates necessity of driving to a large extent.
3. Brings more commercial travelers to the towns and affords better opportunities for merchants to procure high grade goods by dealing with a large number of wholesale firms.
4. Results in more rapid express service.
5. Does away with a two or three day freight delay in towns situated on the western end of the branch.
6. Results in more careful handling of freight and less breakage.
7. Reduced expenses of commercial travelers.

Judge Farrell of La Crosse was called to testify on the saving of the county in jury fees. Heretofore, he declared, it was necessary for jurors, residing in the eastern end of the county, to arrive in Caledonia a day previous to the opening of court, and remain a day longer, which meant two days more jury fees. This also applied to witnesses, he declared.

Dahle Attacks Road
At the close of the testimony, Attorney Dahle took the floor for the closing address and leveled severe criticism at the company, saying:

"The railroad here represents a thirty-five year history of forced concessions. We, the people living on this branch, bought $100,000 worth of bonds when the branch was first constructed, as an aid to the company. For twenty-four years thereafter a narrow gauge wheelbarrow was shunted up to us.

"Then we had to fight for a wide gauge. The officers of the company endeavored to give the impression that it was impossible to build a wide gauge up this valley because of the grades. They even made some of us believe it. Their stories of the financial conditions of the branch would lead one to wonder how they could buy axle grease for the rolling stock."

Hits Depot Arrangement
Nick Roester of Freeburg took occasion to point out defects in his home village, offering decided objections to the company using half the space of a 12 by 14 depot for coal and old stoves.

Continuing he declared that the depot platform is nine by thirty-two feet and the train crew must unload the express or the passengers in the mud.

Among the La Crosse delegation who were present at the hearing were the following: C. S. Van Aken, J. L. Utermoehl, G. F. Greaner, F. W. Tillman, T. T. Berg, J. E. Higbee, D. W. MacWillie, J. F. Zust, E. S. Case, J. V. Randall, T. H. Sprague, F. W. Fox, N. M. Scott, C. F. Michel, Otto Loeffler, J. Arenz, W. J. Ennison, E. W. Sisson, C. H. Collins, A. J. Sorensen, Ed Dittman, C. A. Worth, E. F. Hughes, W. H. Meyer, H. C. Evenson and V. A. Ahlstrom.

CARD OF THANKS.

Superior links the commission issues with that of the liquor question inasmuch as in that city Mayor Joseph S. Konkell was up for a recall his antagonists being composed mostly of forces opposed to an open town, low license and vice houses.

Konkel's Majority 93
Mayor Konkell weathered the storm with a majority of 93 votes in one of the greatest fights the city has ever had.

Oshkosh comes into line of the recall as its councilman, Henry F. Kitz, whose term expires, was defeated for re-election by Florian Lampert after a bitter fight. Lampert is listed among those antagonistic to the present regime and his election makes an effort to recall Mayor Mulva virtually assured. A similar situation obtains at Janesville where Peter J. Goodman, one of the recent recall leaders, defeated C. K. Millmore by a majority of 339.

First Commission at Antigo
Incidentally Antigo elected its first commission composed of Dr. I. D. Steffen, Frank Dvorak, former city treasurer, and G. O. Palmer, former city clerk.

Another feature of the state election was the defeat of socialism in Wausau and Juneau. John Ringle won at Wausau by 600 majority over Alexander Archie. H. F. Einte, democrat of Juneau won by 120 votes over E. D. Friske, the socialist candidate. Socialists lost several aldermen and supervisors at Manitowoc. The socialists mayor continues for another year.

Little Interest on Special Session
Returns have been slow from the various town meetings where expression of opinion was sought by Gov. McGovern as to the desirability of a special session of the legislature. Only in one county, Waushara, was sentiment favorable to the special session. La Crosse was against, as was also Outagamie county. In most cases lack of interest was shown.

One of the closest contests in the state was that at Prairie du Chien where F. H. Paehler defeated B. C. Rosencranz by one vote.

The proposition to put the street car lines under municipal ownership was deferred by 1,232 votes.

Little interest was shown in the referendum proposed by the governor on whether or not a special session of the legislature to cut down the tax levy, should be called.

Following are, briefly, the results in many Wisconsin places:

Socialism Downed

WAUSAU, Wis., April 8.—John Ringle, the nonpartisan candidate re-elected mayor over Alexander Archie, the socialist candidate by over 600 majority.

FORT ATKINSON, Wis., April 8.—No license won by a three to one vote here. The city was stirred as never before over an election and a heavy vote was polled. George T. Eales was re-elected mayor over O. W. Donkby by a majority of 92 votes.

RESORTERS CAUGHT 'ASLEEP AT SWITCH'

Incensed Over Action at the Town Meeting They Claim
Unfair Methods on Part of Their Opponents

Of all the town meetings in La Crosse county none attracted more attention than that in the town of Campbell at which a local law was passed closing roadhouses and dance halls from midnight until 6 o'clock the next morning.

The roadhouse keepers, admitting that they were "asleep at the switch" blame their defeat to what they call the night ride campaign conducted by the anti-resorters.

They enter the entire move originated on French Island, that the petition for the closing was circulated largely there and that the town meeting was held several hours ahead of time to put through the program.

It is pointed out that the midnight closing, if enforced will have the same effect as no license as far as the notorious resorts are concerned.

by Approximately
31,000 Votes

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 8.—Practically complete returns in the primary elections today showed that the state's delegation will be materially altered in the next congress. Underwood will move to the senate. His successor in the house has not been determined and a "run off" election will be necessary. George W. Taylor of the first district, was retired, Oscar L. Gray obtaining the nomination. Hugh Dent of the second district; Henry D. Clayton of the third; Fred L. Blackburn of the fourth; J. Thomas Hefflin of the fifth; and John L. Burnett of the sixth, were all returned. Contests were close in all districts except Hefflin's. In the sixth, William B. Oliver defeated William B. Bankhead, son of the senator. In the eighth, E. B. Almond, speaker of the house, and W. W. Callahan will participate in a second primary for the seat of the late Representative Richardson. Almond, present congressman at large, was re-elected.

Underwood's plurality over Hobson will reach 31,000, it was figured today. Clayton was renominated in the third district by 4,000.

RUN BEHIND SCHEDULE.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Running behind their schedule because of the variety and comprehensiveness of the testimony being given, the federal industrial commission holding a series of hearings to solve the problem of labor unrest, today resumed their inquiry with the garment workers still holding the floor. HENRY BOEHM NEW MERCHANTS' HEAD

Clothing Man Elected President of Association at the Meeting of Directors This Morning

INVESTIGATING MARKETING PLACE

Committee Looking Into Proposition; Tausche to Replace Peter Newburg

At a meeting of the new board of directors of the Retail Merchants association, held at the La Crosse Club this morning, Henry Boehm of the Continental Clothing Co., was chosen president to succeed Edward Dittman whose term expired.

Other officers chosen were: J. J. Felber, vice president; Charles Gesell, treasurer; C. A. Krebaum, recording secretary.

Harry Taggart, general secretary. The board of directors, which were chosen at the annual meeting of the association last week, consists of S. J. Arenz, A. R. Nelson, H. A. Tausche, A. W. Langenbach and Herman Tillman.

The committee which was appointed by ex-President Dittman to consider various plans for improving market conditions in La Crosse is now at work and will soon report to the association with recommendations. The committee will decide which plan is the best and will recommend its adoption to the organization.

Peter Newberg, originally appointed member of this committee, today resigned, because of press of other business and V. Tausche of the V. Tausche Hardware company, was named to succeed him.

The committee consists of J. J. Felber, chairman; V. Tausche, Odin J. Oyen, J. H. Furber and J. S. Arenz.

WILSON MAN LOSES IN JERSEY ELECTION

PATERSON, N. J., April 8.—Republicans here claim today a victory over President Wilson and repudiation of the policies of the administration through the election yesterday of Dow H. Drukker, republican, to fill the unexpired term of congress of the late Robert G. Bremner, democrat, of the seventh New Jersey district. Drukker was elected by a plurality of 5,275. Drukker's total vote was 10,505. Despite the fact that President Wilson gave him strong personal and administration support, James J. O'Byrne, democrat, got only 5,230 votes. Gordon Demarest, socialist, received 5,058, and Henry C. Whitehead, progressive, polled only 608 votes. This was a loss of 4,138 votes from the progressive showing in 1912.

The result of the election in the Seventh New Jersey congressional district yesterday cannot be taken as a repudiation of the democratic administration, and the free canal tolls question had nothing to do with the results, according to Secretary Tumulty today. He declared the Seventh district was normally republican.

PLAN FIGHT FOR DOOMED GUNMEN

NEW YORK, April 8.—Despite refusal by Gov. Glynn to reprieve "Gyp the Blood"—Harry Horowitz—and three other gunmen under sentence to be electrocuted next week for the murder here of gambler Herman Rosenthal, friends of the quartette today had not given up hope. Twenty rabbis of this city will go to Albany to make a last appeal for a stay in the killings. Gov. Glynn has wired the rabbis that their pleas will be futile, but they will at least make the effort to save the lives of the gunmen, three of whom are their coreligionists.

When the gunmen were informed by the warden at Sing Sing that their last hope was gone, they took the news quietly.

UNCLE SAM MAY MAKE RESTITUTION

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The U. S. government will pay $25,000,000 in gold to the Colombian government in a treaty settling the Panama canal controversy, according to an announcement made at the Colombia legation here. It was stated that these terms were provided in the treaty signed last night at Bogota. The state department here declined to confirm the announcement, professing ignorance of the matter. It is expected that the department would have no statement to make until it had received a report from the American minister at Bogota.

By the terms of the treaty the Colombia-Panama boundary line is to be the same as stipulated in a former treaty which was never approved by the Colombian congress, although it was signed. The demand that all Colombian ships be allowed free passage through the canal as one of the terms of the treaty was abandoned by Colombia at the last moment, it is stated, because of President Wilson's determined stand in this regard. Before the treaty is submitted here, the Colombian congress will have passed on it in special session.

Strained diplomatic relations between Colombia and the United States which have existed ever since the latter country recognized the independence of the republic of Panama, will now be eased. Colombians charged—and were upheld by many Americans—that the United States countenanced, if it did not foster, the Panama rebellion, led to Colombia's loss of the territory through which the canal runs. Colombia has insisted throughout that the United States either pay a lump sum as damages over the Panama controversy, or submit the matter to the Hague.

The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 at the home, Rev. E. O. Vik officiating. Burial will take place in Oak Grove cemetery.

HUNT EXPRESS ROBBERS.

ESCANABA, Mich., April 8.—The sheriff and a big posse of armed citizens scoured the countryside about Gladstone in search of two bandits who late last night entered the Soo railroad station in Gladstone, while a score of persons dozed in the waiting-room, entered the ticket office and compelled Edward Anderson, the agent, to hand over $700 from a Western Express company safe.

ASQUITH UPHELD MINISTRY IS SAFE

CUPAR, East Fife, Scotland, April 8.—Premier Asquith was automatically re-elected to the house of commons today when he was formally nominated by the liberals and no candidate was placed in the field to oppose him. The premier has thus obtained an electoral endorsement without the dissolution of his cabinet and will now resume the government leadership in future action on the home rule bill.

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 8.—The bulls were much disappointed when the stock market opened today. Prices were not much lower but it had been hoped the list would rise on the bull report and the decision in favor of the Lackawanna. Reading showed an initial decline of 1/4 and Delaware & Hudson opened 7/8 off at 150 1/2.

11 a. m.—The country was a heavy seller of stocks in the first hour as the result of the decline in Canadian Pacific. The bulls hoped the market would respond to favorable home news. There was a good deal of pressure on United States Steel, partly on account of Chas. Schwab's statement that business is bad.

Noon—During the second hour the list in general showed a tendency to improve but trading fell off in volume and at noon the market was dull with apparently a good undertone. Canadian Pacific sold down to 199 1/2, the lowest price since 1911, but there was evidence of good buying at the low figure on the assumption that reduction of Canadian rates might ultimately help the road by crippling its competitors.

2 p. m.—In the early afternoon there was a diminishing of business and after a slight upward movement prices developed a tendency to sag. The market closed dull and lower. There seemed to be a recognition of the futility of any attempts to bull the issues because of the failure of the market to respond.

WETS CARRY SPARTA BY EIGHTY VOTES

Vote for License Is 340 to 260 Against; Mayor McMillan Elected Without Opposition

SPARTA, Wis., April 8. — The "wets" won in the election in Sparta yesterday by a majority of eighty votes. The vote by wards is as follows: First ward, 68 for license, 64 against; Second ward, 73 for license, 99 against; Third ward, 167 for license, 48 against; and Fourth ward, 92 for license and 58 against; total for, 340; against, 260. Last year license won by a majority of 66.

Mayor Charles E. McMillan was elected without opposition. Evan R. Jones was victor over Louis A. Mueller for the office of assessor by about 109 votes. C. T. Lamson was elected city treasurer without opposition. Votes for justice of the peace and constable were scattering, as there were no candidates named on the official ballot. William Burton was returned as alderman in the First ward by a majority of about four to one. In the Second ward, Morris E. Steele won out over Wynne S. Jones by a majority of 17 votes. Charles M. Van Antwerp was elected supervisor in this ward by a lead of 12. Fred E. Baldwin was defeated for re-election as alderman in the Third ward, receiving 71 votes to 74 for his opponent, Charles W. Bergman. Cleveland Sutherland was returned as alderman in the Fourth ward.

The regular monthly council meeting, which should have been held last evening was adjourned until tonight, at which time the council will meet to officially canvass the returns. The number of women using their right of suffrage in voting for members of the county board of education was small, only two women voting in the Third ward elections held in the rest room on the city market.

CONFESSES HAVING KILLED TEACHER

Miss Lydia Beecher.

The father of Jean Gianini, the seventeen-year-old slayer of Miss Lydia Beecher, Little Falls (N. Y.) school teacher, has announced that he will make every effort to save his son from the electric chair. He has retained as counsel Joseph Shay of New York city, who was one of the attorneys for Charles Becker. It is expected that the defense will be insanity.

FAVOR SUFFRAGE BILL

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Woman suffrage won a partial victory at the senate end of the capitol today when the Bristow resolution, proposing an amendment to the constitution, received a favorable report from the suffrage committee. This is identical with the resolution which failed to receive a two-thirds majority a month ago.

Leaders Laid the Foundation.

In manual toil, in commerce, in education and in public service, at home, at the council board, in the church, there is not a bit of routine you can put your hand to, but the saints and heroes were at the beginning of it. "Princes dug this well, yea, the nobles of the people hollowed it out with their scepters and with their staves."—George Adam Smith.

JEWEL THEFT ON SHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Captain Weeden of the steamship Manoa, sailing from Honolulu for San Francisco notified the San Francisco authorities today by wireless that jewelry valued at $10,000, belonging to Mrs. Margaret Hunt, a passenger, is missing. Mrs. Hunt placed the jewelry under her pillow Sunday night and when she sought it Monday discovered her loss.

FEW MOMENTS! NO INDIGESTION OR SICK STOMACH—PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Digests all food, absorbs gases and stops fermentation at once.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath felling, tongue coated—just take Pape's Diapepsin, and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress. Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear. If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is astonishing. Please don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.
